I'm a graphic designer obsessed with details. I'm the type of person who won't frequent a business who sends out badly designed adverts. If a business doesn't care about their image what does that say about their product? I work well with software and can learn anything I don't know quickly. I will work to help your business look the best it can!

In my time as a graphic design teacher I have been asked to make various posters for school events. I also create various printed materials for my church, varying in size from billboards to t-shirts to event tickets.

logos

I've designed logos for different organizations from design studios to church ministries. I try to make every logo represent the purpose of the organization and the personality of its members.

web

I am the graphic designer for my church and one of my duties is to make graphics advertising events on their website and facebook page. Since the web can often be a more vibrant part of society I try to make bold graphics that stand out in the crowd.

interactive

I was given the opportunity to design an interactive iPad exhibit for the Georgia Radio Hall of Fame. I used Keynote to create the design and interactive elements. The exhibit allows museum-goers to see the names of those inducted into the hall of fame and read a little bit about each inductee.
